

Meet Our Speaker: Beth Maday

Beth comes to the Bardmoor Y with 28 years of experience in the health and wellness field, the last six with the YMCA of the Brandywine Valley, a $37-million-dollar Y association in the Philadelphia area. Most recently she served as Associate Executive Director at the Kennett Area YMCA which has, for the last five years, been named the “#1 Y in the Country for Member Service” by Seer Analytics - the leading YMCA research and survey partner.

Beth’s experience with the YMCA of the Brandywine Valley included oversight of a $17-million-dollar new branch construction, a $2-million-dollar renovation, and a very successful fiscal and cultural turn-around of a struggling Y. Beth has earned a reputation as a “start up super star” by focusing on building top-notch staff teams focused on membership growth and service.

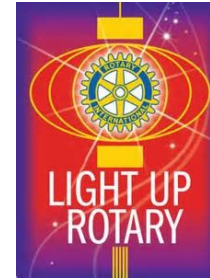

People who have worked with Beth fondly describe her as “the change agent” as she has a knack for recognizing areas of opportunity, quickly assessing where problems might originate, and implementing plans for improvement and growth. She is contagiously dedicated to delivering a quality experience for members, staff, volunteers and donors.

Born and raised in New England, Beth went to the University of Vermont and Emerson College in Boston where she received a Bachelor of Science in Business and Organizational Communication. She has two children, Matt, 24 and Catherine 21. Beth has vacationed regularly in the Tampa area as she has a number of family members locally. Her hobbies include running, cycling, tennis, and snow skiing.
